Ode to a dying town

By Marg Clader, Boise City Oklahoma News

The men were quite cocky as they stood in the sun
 "Let's go to the city, stock up and have fun
 We'll buy by the case all under one roof
 And save lots too, of that we have proof."

So they did just that for many a year
 And from the results never took any fear
 Until one day they met once again
 Standing uptown just out of the rain.

"What's happened here!" cried one in dismay.
 Their faces were ashen, they had much to say.
 Then one scratched his head. The other said loud
 "There's no beer and no coffee, not even a crowd;
 My wife is real sick and right off her feet
 I came for some drugs, some milk and some meat
 The hospital is closed, the grocery stores too
 What in the world are we going to do?"

"My furnace is shot and the plumbing all broken"
 The other one gasped, I thought he was chokin'
 "My car's a near wreck and my tires are low
 I need nails and lumber, and there's no place to go"

His friend has his head right down to his chest
 "We're to blame," he muttered, "on our heads it does rest

We passed this town for the glimmer of lights
 Bought stuff by the car load and took in the sights.
 The city is bustling and bursting with pride.
 While all our own merchants just up and died.
 The houses are empty, the bank's repossessed.
 I'll tell you old boy, we're in for a test"

"We should have been smarter and wise," they said
 "Then the town would be bustling, not half so dead"
 "It's never too late, we've learned," someone did say.
 But for foolishness of many they'd all have to pay.

They parted at last as the wind turned cold
 And muttered, "Buy locally as this story is told"
