Student Congress! Cadi Powers, a student at Blackwell CISD, recently traveled to Austin to compete in the state Student Congress (congressional debate). She qualified for the finals, which are held in the State Capitol Building, which is a very unique experience. This is the only academic contest that occurs in the capitol building. Presiding officers (similar to Speaker of the House) are elected by other competitors after tryouts for the position. Then one of those students wins Outstanding Presiding Officer, which this year is Cadi. Additionally as a part of the group of competitors, Cadi was awarded State Runner-Up. She tied the state champion in points but the tiebreaker (determined by the parliamentarian in the room) gave the nod to the other. Winning Outstanding Presiding Officer and medaling is very difficult but to almost state champion, not just a medalist, is exceptional.
