Hunters Appreciation BBQ set for November 3

By Joan Davis

Plans are underway for the annual Hunters BBQ, sponsored by West Coke County Community Development. The feed, as always, will be held on the night of opening day of the hunting season-this year it falls a little early, November 3. Letters to land owners, land managers, and local businesses have gone out. Tickets for the BBQ are being printed to give to those who donate to the WCCCD. Customers of local businesses may ask for tickets as they shop.

The feed will be held in the large county recreation building at the park in Robert Lee. Serving BBQ and its trimmings will be 6-9 pm on Saturday evening.

The BBQ was suspended last year due to the drought and poor hunting conditions. The wild fires last year greatly curtailed hunting in most of West Texas. I spoke with Texas Parks & Wildlife Game Warden Jim Allen last week. He is encouraged by the improvement of county pastures and full water tanks.

He reports the deer he has observed were in good shape but the fawn crop was short-but better than last year. Antler development is maybe below average but numbers were much better. Turkey numbers may have improved slightly but not as hoped for. He has seen a small number of quail which have been pretty thin for several years. Maybe there's hope there yet if rains continue.

Hunters, if you lease to hunt, ask your rancher of land managers for free BBQ tickets. Hope to see you there!

after fifty (and before) for women of all walks of life. We are usually together for about an hour or so. Some of the ladies get together and go shopping afterwards. Some go back to work. Whatever we do we have fun. Red Hat is one of the things that we really look forward to -- no dues, no rules, no business, no nothing really, but lots of good fun, food and fellowship. Each woman buys her own lunch. We hope to see you there.

Ladies under fifty can brag a little wearing something lavender and a pink hat. At over 50 we usually wear something purple and wear a red hat. You can't miss us.
