Scholarships applications due March 1

High school and college graduations may be months away, but now is the time to start thinking about applying for scholarships, according to John Ross Copeland, Coke County Farm Bureau president.

Coke County students are encouraged to apply for more than $200,000 in Farm Bureau college scholarships offered on the local, district and state levels. "Scholarships and awards are an excellent opportunity for Farm Bureau families to earn money to pursue their education," John Ross said. "We encourage all eligible students to apply."

There are three high school scholarships available: Memorial/Honorary District Scholarship, Young Farmer & Rancher Scholarship and the Dick Mitchell Memorial Scholarship.

Enrolled college students can apply for four scholarships: Young Farmer & Rancher Scholarships for Enrolled can apply for the Mia Balko Student Teaching Scholarship. Four senior agricultural education students will receive scholarships each semester. The scholarships, valued at $1,500, aim to help students cover expenses during their semester of off-campus student teaching. Students who will be student teaching off-campus in fall 2022 are encouraged to apply.

TFB's S.M. True Jr. Agricultural Scholar Award offers $20,000 total to a deserving student who is at least a junior pursuing an undergraduate degree in an agriculture major.

The Rural Veterinary Scholarship is new this year. Four scholarships valued at $10,000 each will be awarded. To be eligible for the scholarship, students must be a second- or third-year veterinarian student at Texas A&M University or Texas Tech University with a GPA of 2.5 or higher. The applicant must
