

Remington Arms

By Johnny Kirby
 Congratulations are in order to Remington Arms Company on their 200th year of operation in the United States. This makes them the oldest gun maker in the U.S.

In 1816, Eliphalet Remington II made his first rifle barrel in his father's factory in New York. With the aid of a local gunsmith he completed his first rifle and took it to a local shooting competition where he finished second. Other competitors were so impressed with his quality and accuracy that orders starting pouring in for his rifle barrels and the company was born.

Remington Arms Company has been in operation in some form since that time and as far as I can find, all of their guns have been made in America.

Remington's 2 most popular guns are the Model 870 pump shotgun and the Model 700 bolt action rifle. The Model 870 was first introduced in 1950 and to date has sold more than 12 million shotguns. The Model 700 was introduced in 1962 and to date has sold more than 5 million units in 3 or 4 different grades but all with the same bolt actions. This makes these 2 icons the most popular shotguns and rifles of all time.

My first shotgun was a Remington 870 Wingmaster. I bought it in 1962 and still use it to this day.
