Trooper Biddle described to the students how devastating driving while intoxicated can be. Biddle went over facts stating how quickly alcohol can get in one's bloodstream and an estimated amount of how many drinks it would take to put an individual over the legal limit. Students were shown footage of actual people driving under the influence and the severe consequences they had to face. Drinking while driving not only puts your own life at risk, but also the lives of others on the road. Biddle also reminded the students that drinking under the age of 21 was illegal.
