Robert Lee...Robert E. Lee?

That was the name which drew an interesting pair of characters to Coke County. Luci Luciano and Vanessa Mariposa, better known as "The Travelling Tourists", chose to visit our communities and sites because of the history surrounding Robert E. Lee. Although Robert Lee's history with this iconic figure is brief, it provided just enough to help them with their choice. Robert Lee Mayor Leroy Casey (above) discusses Robert Lee and its history.

Longtime friends and colleagues, Luci and Mariposa, began a new journey with the dawn of 2017. They debuted a YouTube channel where viewers can watch their journey across America. They also host a website with blogs and videos of their travels. The couple (although not a couple) are dedicated to finding and sharing with the world the interesting bits and stories in what most of us see as ordinary.

Luci and Mariposa, along with their beautiful dogs, Thor and Isis, quickly became acquainted with the sites of Coke County and the characters who call it home. As they visited Silver, Fort Chadbourne, and numerous businesses on both sides of the county, they had an unexpected impact. The friendly pair not only seemed to become a part of our communities for a brief time, but they gave us a new appreciation for the things and people we see each day.

According to Luci, they are dedicating this year to the United States and will travel in Europe next year, all the while filming the unique people and places in each stop.
