The Robert Lee ISD has announced that Friday, May 23, 2014, is now an instructional day to make up for time lost due to winter weather. Classes will now be held on this day.

McCabe receives DVM

Jake McCabe of Robert Lee, Texas, was among 90 veterinary students who earned a Doctor of Veterinary Medicine (DVM) degree today from Oklahoma's only veterinary college at Oklahoma State University Center for Veterinary Health Sciences. He is the son of Mike and Diana McCabe of Robert Lee.

Graduates with a degree in veterinary medicine can follow one of a number of career options. Some chose private veterinary practice, others serve in the military as veterinarians in the U.S. Army Veterinary Corps or as public health officers in the U.S. Air Force, while some pursue the pharmaceutical industry, academia or biomedical research.

"Oklahoma State veterinarians are highly sought after," says Dr. Jean Sander, dean of the veterinary center. "Our graduates are known for being competent and practice ready. The skills and knowledge they have learned at Oklahoma State allow them to walk into a practice and hit the 'ground running' minimizing the new employee learning curve. On average, each graduate has one to two job offers. We're extremely proud of the class of 2014 and look forward to following their successes in the years ahead."

Following graduation, McCabe will begin an internship at the Alvarado Veterinary Clinic in Alvarado, Texas.

Doctorate Earned! Robert Lee ISD Superintendent Aaron Hood completed his studies at Texas Tech University and received his Doctor of Education on May 15, 2014. Dr. Hood did his Dissertation on "Responses by Small, Rural, Low income school districts to Fiscal Pressures in Texas".
