

Burns places 3rd at District 4-H Horse Show

Coke County 4-H'er Kiara Burns participated in the District 7 4-H horse show in Sweetwater. Kiara placed third with her horse in the halter class. Congratulations Kiara and thanks for representing Coke County.

The 4-Hers representing the 23 counties of District 7 West Central Texas, participated in classes such as trail riding, futurity, western horsemanship, western riding, reining, barrel racing, halter and showmanship classes.

The 4-H horse program objectives are to teach youth life skills by teaching reasonability and commitment by caring for a horse project throughout the year and it allows youth to gain exposure to the equine industry. The horse program also allows youth to develop an understanding of equine industry, which can assist career planning and preparing for a job.

The Texas 4-H horse program offers opportunities such as the horse quiz bowl, horse judging, a general summer horsemanship school and horse shows from the district to National levels. This program also offers specialized summer camp opportunities such as the Texas 4-H Reining Clinic, roping school and team roping school. These projects allow 4-H'ers the opportunity to increase their knowledge of equine industry, while allowing interacting with other 4-H members with mutual interest.

RETRACTION

In last week's Observer/Enterprise I wrote a news article for Vision With A Purpose which included some inaccurate information. I was unable to attend the June 7 meeting and misunderstood reports of the discussions. Please disregard that story altogether and I regret any inconvenience it may have caused.
