New Robert Lee organization hopes to connect citizens in need with providers who can help

Several Robert Lee citizens came together in the last year to create a new organization with the goal of connecting people in need in Robert Lee with the groups, churches, businesses or individuals who are able to meet that need. Their mission statement says "Solutions for small, solvable community needs to strengthen our community."

Although Robert Lee is blessed with many effective groups, non-profits, and churches, some people who could benefit from these organizations are still underserved. One Another Robert Lee hopes to change that by:

- "First, we want to connect the needs of the people to people or services already in place.

- Where there are no connections to be made, we want to communicate with the groups of Robert Lee to create what the community needs.

- Meet the needs directly."

Examples of this include, but are not limited to the following.

- Monthly grocery pick ups for senior citizens
- Jobs for youth helping the homebound
- Help for single parents, by mentoring or providing special evenings out
- Counseling in Robert Lee
- Welcome packets for new residents
- Involve unconnected families
- Hosting chalk days for housing authority residents

Currently the group needs members to help assess the requests, propose solutions and assist in connecting. They would like to invite all businesses, existing community groups, churches and individuals who are willing to participate. "We all care about the community we are living in and can make it better together."
