

Wacky Water Day! Students in grades PK through 2nd grade recently participated in Bronte Elementary School's annual Wacky Water Day. The students ran through an obstacle course, glided down a slip and slide and ran through sprinklers. The students had a great time and also got to enjoy popsicles. Pictured is Mrs. Rawls' 2nd grade class.

"Tell me, where do you go, When you got no dough, There must be a way, Out of here, the chorus from a Garnet Mimms song. The answer to "Where do you go"...is, to the Coke County Library for a book. There is no quicker, or quieter, way to get away from the noise. Junior high and high school readers can find quiet places: Out West, in space, in another dimension, in another country, in cyber worlds - there are all places waiting for the high school reader...adult readers, too. Also, junior high and high school readers can be eligible to win a pizza from Cindy's at the end of summer drawing. For each book returned, readers can put their names in for the drawing. There are several ways parents of elementary school children can maintain reading skills throughout the summer.

Visit the library, of course. For elementary school children, there will be a drawing each week for a treat from Rhonda and Judy's summer treat station. Also to keep children turned in to reading, parents can create a family tree; read to the child and have the child relate the story; while driving, talk and talk about the weather, the trees, the heat, their favorite things, what they want for Christmas...so many subjects, so short a ride.

For pre-schoolers, a craft and a story are available any time.

Library hours are Tuesdays, 8-12; Wednesdays, 8-4; Thursdays, 1-5; Fridays, 8-12. Call 453-2495 for information.
