2019 Year in Review Issue

By Melissa McWhorter

We are looking back on a year of challenges and triumphs. From the start of the year, we have seen a lot of changes in our community. Despite the challenges, we have remained strong and resilient. We have seen our schools, our businesses, and our community come together to support each other. We have seen our leaders work hard to make a difference. We have seen our citizens show their love for their community. We have seen our community grow and thrive. We have seen our community become a better place to live. We have seen our community become a place where everyone has a chance to succeed. We have seen our community become a place where everyone has a voice. We have seen our community become a place where everyone has a chance to make a difference.
