County EMS discussing possible EMT training

East and West Coke County EMS would like to ask if anyone would be interested in taking EMT training. A class is not firm or scheduled, as the EMS departments are trying to see if there would be sufficient interest in the county and obtain a possible head count. It is expected to involve 2 or 3 nights a week and some (160 class room Saturdays hours) and clinical rotations in and another hospital ambulance service.

If anyone is interested, please email Stephen Salmon at sjsalmon@verizon.net or call (325) 224-3047.

Community Watch Meeting set for August 21

A Robert Lee Community Watch meeting is set for Tuesday, August 21, at 6 pm in the Family Life Center at First United Methodist Church.

The group is comprised of neighbors looking out for neighbors and the community. Here's your chance to help our Sheriff's Office, your neighbors, and your community work together to fight crime in Robert Lee. The more members they have, the better this program works and the safer our community will be. Businesses are welcome too.

Crystal Stanford, President of RIARestoration Foundation, will be the guest speaker and Sheriff Wayne McCutchen will be there to answer any questions you may have.

Neighborhood Watch is one of the oldest and most well-known crime prevention concepts in North America. The program has roots dating back to the days of colonial settlements, when night watchmen patrolled the prominence due to an increase in crime rates. The National Sheriffs' Association (NSA) saw a need for a neighborhood crime prevention organization and created the National Neighborhood Watch Program in 1972 to assist citizens and law enforcement.

For the last four decades, the Neighborhood Watch came to

In the late 1960s,

National Sheriffs' Association has helped neighbors band together to create Watch Groups. These groups understand that active participation of community residents is a critical element in neighborhood safety. Watch groups make their communities a better place to live simply by looking out for suspicious activity in their neighborhood and reporting that activity to law enforcement.

In the aftermath of the September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks. the need strengthening and securing our communities has become more critical and, as a result, Neighborhood Watch groups have taken on greater significance. In addition to serving a crime prevention role, Neighborhood Watch can also be used as the basis for bringing neighborhood residents together disaster focus on preparedness, emergency terrorism response, and awareness.

The national program changed with the transforming role of the Neighborhood Watch groups. That is why in 2002, the National Sheriffs' Association, with a grant from the Bureau of Justice Assistance, Office of Justice Programs, U.S. Department of Justice launched USAonWatch.org.

In 2013, the funding from the grant came to an end and the National Sheriffs' Association absorbed USAonWatch into National Neighborhood Watch—A Division of the National Sheriffs' Association. National Neighborhood Watch is a membership based program in which citizens can join and gain access to resources to support, start, or re-vitalize their Neighborhood Watch groups.

Water well owner training set for August 22

A Texas Well Owner Network training has been scheduled for August 22 in San Angelo.

The Texas Well Owner Network, or TWON, program is for Texas residents who depend on household wells for their water needs, allowing them to learn more about how to improve and protect their community water resources.

The Well Educated training, which is free and open to the public, will be from 8 am until noon at the Tom Green 4-H Center, 3168 N. U.S. Highway 67.

"The TWON program was established to help well owners become familiar with Texas groundwater resources, septic system maintenance, well maintenance and construction, and water quality and treatment," said Dr. Drew Gholson, Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service program specialist and the program's coordinator, College Station.

Gholson said participants may bring well-water samples to the training for screening. There is a fee per sample, which is due at the time samples are turned in.

"Water samples will be screened for nitrates, total dissolved solids and bacteria," he said.

Well owners who would like to have their well water sampled can pick up two sample containers from the AgriLife Extension offices in the following counties and addresses:

- -- Coke County, 13 E. 7th St., Robert Lee
- -- Tom Green County, 113 W. Beauregard Ave., San Angelo
- -- Irion County, 209 N.Parkview, Mertzon-- Schleicher County, 203 S. W.
- Main, Eldorado
 Runnels County, 608 Sealy
 Ave., Suite A, Ballinger
- -- Sterling County, 609 4th St., Sterling City
- -- Concho County, 159 N. Roberts St., Paint Rock.

Gholson said bringing water samples to the training is not required, but those wanting to have water samples analyzed must attend. Attendees can register at http://twon.tamu.edu/training or by calling 979-845-1461.

The training is one of several being conducted statewide through the Texas Well Owner Network project.

"The core content of this program is the same as other trainings, but the information is tailored to local water quality issues and aquifers," Gholson said.
