Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

Re: Coke County Volunteers or CCV for short

I have been seeing what has been happening in our country lately and it worries me. I have my family and kids (plus one on the way) that live here and I want to make sure they are safe.

There is no need to be worried but there is a need to be prepared. The last thing we want is something bad to happen to our county, right here at home in our community. I have seen the news with the chaos and riots, along with natural disasters and I realized we as a community can be stronger together than just as an individual. The time to prepare is before things happen.

I had a meeting with the County Judge and Sheriff and pitched them my idea of a citizen run group that could help the county in a time of need. They are on board with the idea of the group. We are not officially tied to the county but we are here to support them. We will be a resource the county can use during an emergency. If the Sheriff needs extra bodies to watch a protest or if we need to help during a natural disaster event or setup emergency communications, we will be there. If the zombie apocalypse happens we want to be organized and ready for what the future throws at us.

This group will have a proper structure and organization. We will have set group bylaws and standards. We will respect the rule of law and follow the government. This group will be for the people and by the people.

To learn more about the upcoming events or meetings, please contact us through our Facebook group page at Coke County Volunteers. If you have an LTC that is a big plus for the kind of person we would like to join. But anyone can join! We can find a place for you to help. We will have many opportunities for various support personnel functions.

We want you to help make this a better and safer place to live.

JAM registration to close August 26

Robert Lee's First United Methodist Church JAM (Jesus and Me) ministry registration will close on Wednesday, August 26, with the JAM ministry looking a little different this year. Each Wednesday, beginning on September 9, there will be a drive/walk up at the church from 5 pm until 6 pm to pick up ministry packets and dinner. The packets will be for children in kindergarten through 12th grade. Each child that will be participating will need to be registered. If registering for just dinner, mark preschool in the grade and in the comments section add that this child will be food only.

To register your children, please visit vbspro.events/p/42d47a. For more information, please contact the church at (325) 453-2417.

Benefit account set up at RLSB
