

The Coke County TEA Party will host a training session for all interested conservatives 6 pm, Friday, August 24, at Wildcat Marina. Russ Duerstein, a professional campaign consultant, will conduct training on "Encouraging Our Neighbors to Vote". It is a "how to get started" approach, with information on what to say, and how to react to any situations we might encounter. After our training, the Coke County TEA Party will use our experiences to get better, learn from each other, and use our passion by working for conservative candidates in Texas and in the critical swing states.

The Coke County TEA Party is not a political party or a social club. We are conservative in our political beliefs. We believe in The Declaration of Independence, The Constitution, and the Amendments. We know these documents shaped our Republic and guarded a free people as they built the most prosperous and free nation the world has ever seen. We believe in limited government at all levels. We believe elected officials work for the people, not the other way round. We believe our Rights are a gift from our Creator and we cannot be separated from them. We believe our Constitutional form of government and our Rights are under assault.

We want to become active in our political system by educating ourselves and encouraging our fellow citizens of Coke County to become educated and campaign on behalf of candidates who will work for smaller government and greater liberty for the people. We believe that if you are conservative in your outlook you can no longer afford the luxury of being one of the "Silent Majority". The Progressive Movement has been working tirelessly since the 1900s to reshape our nation into one which rights are granted by government and the people exist to serve the government instead of the government existing to serve We The People.

Coke County Comment

Thank you for your comment a couple of weeks ago. I feel that respect for law officers starts at home. Parents need to teach children to respect the law and the men and women who serve to protect them and enforce the law.

In the past, I have overheard parents tell small children who are misbehaving that the police "are going to get them". Children need to know that police will help them, not "come and get them". The only time the police will come and get them is if they break the law once they are of an age to be held accountable.

The police and law officers are not the "boogie man".

There are other ways to correct a child.
