

County Convention! On August 6, 2019, the Coke-Sterling Farm Bureau held their annual County Convention at the Robert Lee Rec Hall. Board President John Ross Copeland (pictured above) called the convention to order around 6:20 pm. Approximately 90 members were served a ribeye steak dinner. There were several guest speakers at this year's convention. Renea Maxcey and Buddy Wallace (top right photo), along with Buddy's wife, Kip, were in attendance to inform the members and guests about the partnership between Ford and Texas Farm Bureau. Tara Drennan (top left photo) also spoke briefly to say thank you for sponsoring her for the Ag in the Classroom summer conference and to inform about the importance of teaching the youth of today where our food comes from. The Coke-Sterling Farm Bureau also sponsored Dain Copeland (bottom left photo) to attend the Youth Leadership Conference, held at Tarleton State University in Stephenville, Texas. Dain talked about all that he had learned at the conference and thanked Coke-Sterling Farm Bureau for sending him. The main guest speaker for the evening was Dr. Fred Homeyer (bottom right photo). He spoke about one of his many trips that he had taken. The topic he chose for this event was the trip he took to Cuba and the differences in our government and theirs.
