For a lot of our fellow Americans, one day, on September 11, 2001, without warning, tomorrow DIDN'T come. It doesn't take a massive tragedy like that, either. Car wrecks, heart attacks, and any number of sudden events can take each of us, or the people we care about, without warning.

What would you do if you knew tomorrow wasn't coming? I'm not talking about the "arrogant schemes" that we all have—careers, businesses, traveling, hobbies, etc. I'm talking about the simple, meaningful things in life. Would you remember to say "I love you" to the people that you care about? Would you give a hug to a friend, if you knew you'd never see them again? What about that exasperated phone call you had with a parent or with a child? What about that argument you had with a spouse or a significant other? Would you leave that hanging, or would you fix it before the conversation ended?

Meeting! Coke County Justice of the Peace Russell Johnson visited with members of Robert Lee's Community Watch at their meeting Tuesday evening, September 17, 2019. He discussed the duties of a Justice of the Peace and also spoke on the importance of honoring the 2nd Amendment.

Like I wrote about Andrew Luck, our lives are short. They pass by quickly, and we need to use them for the right reasons. But sometimes, they pass by even more quickly than expected. We don't always get the time to do all the things we want and need to do. There are a lot of things that we could all do better "tomorrow." But remember the message of James 4:13-17 and from September 11, 2001: tomorrow isn't a guarantee. Instead of waiting for tomorrow, would you join me and work on doing the meaningful things a little bit better today?
