Camouflage convention set to converge on county

By Hal Spain

Don't be alarmed if you see a lot of camo type attire in Coke County and the surrounding area this weekend. No, these are not troops training to go overseas, or a new type of militia group invading the county.

These guys and gals are what most of us believe to be the premier hunters in the country. And, they have come to Coke County to try their hand at bow hunting, one of our most primitive, specialized, and challenging methods of harvesting white tailed deer and turkey.

Archery or bow season for whitetail deer and turkey begins Saturday, September 29, 2012, in Coke County and pretty much throughout the state. This year's early bow season runs through November 2, 2012, with the general gun season starting the next day, November 3, and running through January 6, 2013.

Bag limit for whitetail deer for the upcoming seasons (all seasons combined) is 5, with no more than 2 bucks. Bag limit for turkey is 4 (all seasons combined), with either sex permissible during the archery and fall gun season.

Best of luck to all those who choose to visit Coke County during the fall hunting season. And, don't forget to capture that Kodak moment with a picture, if you are successful. Bring that photo by the newspaper office, or email it as a jpeg with a caption to o-e@wcc.net, and we'll get it in the upcoming issue of the Hunting & Fishing Guide.
