The Bronte Longhorns fell to the Winters Blizzards last Friday night in Winters by a score of 34-31.

In a game of big plays, momentum swings, and high emotion, Winters made the last play. They completed a twelve yard pass with two seconds on the clock for the victory. The Longhorns had taken the lead 31-28, just moments before on a 28 yard field goal by Adrian Padilla. The field goal was made possible by Creed Coalson's second interception of the game with less than five minutes to go.

In a game of big plays, the Longhorns were making their share, but the Blizzards made the last one. It was a good game for us to test our skills on both offense and defense. Getting put into pressure situations and playing a team as diverse as Winters will only help us as the year progresses.

I was proud of the Longhorn effort and the way the kids responded and battled all the way through.

This week the Horns will have their Homecoming game against the Cross Plains
